Release of Inclusive and Special Education, Join Ceremony by Livestream

The final report of the review of inclusive and special education will be shared on Tuesday, June 1.

The intent is to honour and acknowledge, through ceremony, the many stories in the report as well as the additional stories still held within ourselves, before we begin our work to address the report findings and our way forward together.

The ceremony will take place at the Haa Shagóon Hídi in Carcross (Carcross Learning Centre). A sacred fire, ceremony and group activities will happen over the day, from 8:45 to 3:30 p.m.

Due to COVID-19, the live ceremony is limited to 50 in-person attendees (by invitation). However, a livestream will be available for anyone who would like to participate remotely.

As part of this day, we will also acknowledge the Yukon Child and Youth Advocate Office's Review on School Attendance in the Yukon: What Is, What Could Be. (It will be tabled in the Legislative Assembly on Monday, May 31.)

If you are interested in attending via livestream, please follow this link on June 1 Review of inclusive and special education in Yukon | Government of Yukon

Zooming in on the ELF! (BC Early Learning Framework)

“This framework carries the hope of inspiring and supporting the creation of rich, joyful early childhood spaces where children, adults, ideas and materials come together, and where knowledge is constructed about learning and living in ways that are local, inclusive, ethical and democratic.” (BC Early Learning Framework, 2019, p. 11)

If you would like to be a part of our ELF Community of Practice in the coming year, contact Michelle.Gillard@yukon.ca. If you wish to learn more about the ELF – a wonderful resource for delving further into it online is Introducing The Early Learning Framework – respectfully living and learning together.

A Yukon Community of Practice Around the BC ELF was launched in January. Many joined this journey and were excited to engage in authentic conversations around what it means to respectfully live and learn together with children and families. We have come together once every three weeks. We have examined our role as educators in creating authentic environments for our students and developing relationships with children and the world they live in. We are learning together how to best utilize the ELF in our learning spaces, from early care learning environments through to school settings. We have had the opportunity to deepen understanding and to recognize and respect the richness and diversity of indigenous communities. We have explored how we as Yukoners can create space to localize this framework to best reflect the values and beliefs of our diverse communities. We continued our journey to rethink learning and practice as we explored the Pedagogy of Listening, Critical Reflection, Collaborative Dialogue & Pedagogical Narration. In the last few sessions together in this school year we will discover more about the ELF Living Inquiries, Pathways & Critically Reflective Questions which help us to effectively engage with children and families.

Fall 2021 Off-Site Trip Planning

As the end of this school year draws nearer its time to start planning for fall 2021 off-site trips. Complex off-site trip plans need to be submitted at least two weeks prior to the trip date. If you are planning a trip for the first few weeks of the 2021-22 school year the it is a great idea to submit your trip plan before you head off on your personal summer adventures. For more information on off-site trip planning: <http://jjewell.yukonschools.ca/field-trips-activity-standards.html>.
